 FIRST OFFICIAL DORKBOTSOCAL MEETING
 MAY 1st 2004 - 8pm
 UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA IRVINE
 ARTS COMPUTATION ENGINEERING "BUNKER"

P R E S E N T E R S :

Tom Jennings: World Power Systems / hacker extraordinaire

Presenting on "Car Parts and ASCII" - 'I currently I make functional and complex instrumentation that reveals the beauty hidden within scientific apparatus of the 1930's through 1950's, a time of unsurpassed social and scientific change. My work is about the aesthetics of scientific problem-solving and the obscure traditions of technical design.'

Mark Allen and Sky Frostenson: C-Level - "Waco Ressurrection Project"

C-level unveils Waco Resurrection, its first chapter of Endgames, a new 3D multiplayer computer game series based on alternative utopias and apocalyptic moments.

Beverly Tang: Rhizome.LA / Sublimina

Beverly will present her sublimina (<http://sublimina.com>) works and her current preoccupation with silversmithing and electronic jewelry, which includes a "third eye" necklace that can sense the invisible.

It should be a good event - the room is small, so come out early if you want a chair. All are welcome. This event is free. BYOB. Visit <http://dorkbot.org/dorkbotsocal> or contact Garnet Hertz at dorkbotsocal@dorkbot.org for more information.
